The 1957 NURSING OUTLOOK Index Can Help You

The NURSING OUTLOOK index is a list of the contents that appeared in 1957, arranged to enable you to find all the material on a given subject and similar subjects. It is a factual review aiming at logic and consistency. Matters of terminology are almost as different as tastes, therefore most of the articles are listed in several places to keep them from being "lost." The index answers such questions as: Where is it? What is it? Is it a full-length article, an excerpt, or a book review? Under whose auspices was the committee formed? What did she have to do with the project?

Every article is listed by author's name (if it is published) as well as by its subjects. Every organization and nearly every person mentioned, even in the news columns, appears under the name. The subject headings reflect the trends in nursing and nursing education, as Nursing homes, In-service education, and Human relations. The larger and more generalized subjects may also have subdivisions. Nursing education, for example, has in addition to general articles the following subheadings: Associate degree programs; Collegiate, basic; Diploma schools; Graduate education; and Post-diploma programs.

The organizational structure of the National League for Nursing is adhered to in detail. Although an annual index cannot always keep up with changes in nursing committees, we trust, for instance, that the Conference Project on Psychiatric and Mental Health Nursing will not be confused with the Council on Psychiatric and Mental Health Nursing. Since local leagues appear under state names, you will be able to answer such questions as whether a given state league has sponsored a conference on rehabilitation or a workshop on occupational health nursing.

You may not read every word of NURSING OUTLOOK when it is delivered but, later when a need arises you may wonder how to find, say, a news item that went with a picture that caught your eye. "There must have been a biography (outline of professional background) printed at the time she was promoted, but when was that?" Look under her name or the name of the last organization you know she worked for.

Having staff troubles? You remember an article, but not the author, on a similar situation. Wasn't there a hospital in Ohio that found a solution? Look under Ohio. You want to recommend a short article on supervision which made just the right point. No author, not about any special place—maybe it was an editorial? Look under Editorials as well as the specific subject, Supervision. A colleague collaborated on an article but you cannot remember what it was about or who the other person was. Look under the name you know to find a cross reference to the first mentioned author.

Frequent sign posts are used to keep you on the right road: Aged see Geriatrics; Deafness see Ears; and many others. Collegiate schools of nursing appear under their own name, i.e., Yale University School of Nursing. Hospital schools of nursing are under the name of the state, as are visiting nurse associations.

Book reviews are listed separately under author and subject. However, for a quick review of the year's nursing literature reference is made to the August 1957 issue of the AMERICAN JOURNAL OF NURSING where there is a list of the books reviewed in NURSING OUTLOOK, as well as in the JOURNAL, for the period September 1956 through August 1957.

This index should be included in bound volumes of NURSING OUTLOOK. It is sent to all schools of nursing throughout the country for their libraries, and to a permanent mailing list. Any subscriber who requests a copy may have one, while the supply lasts, and may ask to be placed on the permanent mailing list. There is no charge.
